

EARTH FUTURES Project REAL

Rural Entrepreneurship for Agricultural Livelihoods

Partners

Our implementation model

Conduct a diagnostic study to understand the FPO's maturity level and find opportunities for improvement in each participating organization.

Develop and implement customized solutions for training and technical support.

Project differentiators

Objective

We promote resilient food systems by strengthening Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs) so they can implement effective business management and have access to fairer markets.

REAL's Numbers

879 Farmers impacted

We work with 16 FPOs.

3 Production areas

3 Regions
Departments of San Marcos, Huehuetenango, and Sololá

5 CEEX (Extracurricular Education Centers)

131 youth 71%

EARTH Futures' Project REAL is funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) through ANDE (Aspen Network of Development Entrepreneurs) and the Argidius Foundation. These donors make it possible for EARTH Futures and its partners to implement this initiative that benefits hundreds of people.

If you are interested in supporting farmers in Guatemala, please get in touch with our team at infoearthfutures@earth.ac.cr

